NARROW ESCAPE

Had Just Killed a Bull Elephant
When He Was Suddenly
Charged by Another One.

TOOK REFUGE BEHIND TREE.

Cunningham, the Big Game Hunter,
Shot It and Turned It From the
Colonel in Nick of Time.

Nairobi, Oct. 18.—Mr. Roosevelt, a government engineer in the public works department of New York, came into Nairobi this afternoon and brought word that Mr. Roosevelt had a very narrow escape Sept. 17 when shooting elephants in the forest near the herd.

When shooting elephants it is often necessary to creep into the end and shoot the selected bull at a range of 15 to 20 yards.

Mr. Roosevelt, accompanied by Mr. Cunningham, the big game hunter and guide, followed this procedure and shot the elephant at the second shot. Suddenly, before Mr. Roosevelt could reach the elephant, another bull charged him at close range. Mr. Roosevelt fired and killed the bull, but the second bull charged him and he was forced to take refuge behind a tree.

NEW YORK MAYORALTY
CAMPAIGN GETS HOT

New York, Oct. 18.—A continual round of mass meetings is planned by the three mayoralty candidates for the next two weeks of the municipal campaign. The remnants of Otto T. Baer, the Republican-Fusion candidate, have arranged for more than 100 meetings in the city and will speak every night except Sunday.

William F. Hearst, the Civic alliance candidate, beginning this evening with four mass meetings in Harlem and the Bronx, will speak four nights this week and every night next week.

Justice Gaynor, the Democratic candidate, is scheduled to make at least 20 more speeches. He spoke today for the second time in Manhattan, at the noon-day meeting of the Commercial Travelers' league.

The "reaction" issue is the latest to arise. Justice Gaynor has accused Mr. Hearst and his principal supporter, William M. Irvine, of being "tools of the traction interests," and the Independent candidate has retorted that the "reaction" was responsible for the traction "system" and that the street railway magnates "owned Tammany Hall."

COUNT DE LAMBERT MAKES SENSATIONAL FLIGHT

Paris, Oct. 18.—Count De Lambert, the French aviator, made a remarkable and sensational flight in a Wright biplane this afternoon. Leaving the Juvisy aviation field, he flew to Paris, circled above the Eiffel tower, at times reaching a height of about 1,000 feet above the city and then returned to Juvisy.

Count de Lambert left the aerodrome at Juvisy at 10 o'clock and, traveling at a height of about 250 feet, headed northward.

Half an hour later the population of this city was startled by the sight of the biplane approaching the city, high in the air from the southward. As the machine neared the Eiffel, it ascended higher and higher, finally passing above the Eiffel tower at an estimated distance from the ground of 1,500 feet.

RAILROAD TRAVEL
DOESN'T IRE TAFT

After Hardest Days Willing to Sit Up Late on Train Talking With Guests.

RECEPTION IN ALAMO PLAZA.

Leaves for Brother's Ranch in Southern Texas, Where He Will Rest Four Days.

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 18.—President Taft spent a busy seven hours in this city today before leaving for his brother's ranch near the southern end of the state where he is to spend four days. Charles P. Taft has had a golf course constructed on the ranch and between this favorite sport and horseback riding the president expects to have a thoroughly good time.

It will be even more of a rest than the president had in the Yosemite and he expects it to put him in splendid condition for the remaining three weeks of his notable trip.

As a matter of fact, however, Mr. Taft never felt better than he does today. Railroad travel by day and night never tires him in the least and at each city he visits, he places himself entirely in the hands of local committees and is ready to carry out any program suggested, no matter how strenuous. This willingness on the part of the president has led many of the committees to extend their program far beyond the original outline and they kept the president pretty busy from the moment his train arrives till its departure.

After his hardest days, however, Mr. Taft is ready to sit up late on the train talking with his guests on the trip. None of the latter attempts to keep him from his rest, but he is so tired that he does or is called upon to do.

UP WITH THE LARK.

The president was up early this morning to carry out the program arranged for in this, the first really southern city to entertain him on his presidential tour. Mr. Taft was in San Antonio before 8 o'clock and he and his act in that capacity in building Fort Sam Houston up to the present time. The president has been in the city since he left the White House and he has been in the city since he left the White House.

Wherever he went today the president was greeted by cheering throngs. His declaration of war, so that he was not on a political mission and his visit that solely of the president of the United States, helped to add to the enthusiasm of his reception.

Before 6 o'clock this morning automobiles were waiting for the president at the St. Anthony hotel to convey him to Fort Sam Houston, where, with a simple ceremony he laid the cornerstone of the nearly completed post chapel building. This chapel, one of the handsomest buildings to be found in the jurisdiction of the war department, was presented to the post by the citizens of San Antonio and was formally accepted and dedicated by President Taft shortly after his arrival from El Paso last night.

On his way to Fort Sam Houston this morning the president was driven through lines of school children, 14,000 in number, who sang "America" as he passed.

AT FORT SAM HOUSTON.

Arriving at the fort, he greeted all the troops stationed there before proceeding to the chapel where the simple service of placing the cornerstone in the niche preserved for it took place. Following the chapel ceremony the president held a reception from the grand stand erected on the Alamo Plaza.

At noon the president's visit ended with an informal luncheon given by the citizens.

CASHIER F. E. HANSCOM
COMMITTED SUICIDE

Mineral Point, Wis., Oct. 18.—F. E. Hanscom, cashier of the wrecked First National bank of Mineral Point, shot and killed himself late last night. His body was immediately removed to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John Gray.

At sight of the body, Mrs. Gray dropped dead.

Since the failure of the bank Hanscom has been working night and day and was very despondent. He spoke today for the second time in Manhattan, at the noon-day meeting of the Commercial Travelers' league.

The "reaction" issue is the latest to arise. Justice Gaynor has accused Mr. Hearst and his principal supporter, William M. Irvine, of being "tools of the traction interests," and the Independent candidate has retorted that the "reaction" was responsible for the traction "system" and that the street railway magnates "owned Tammany Hall."

REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM WRECKED VESSEL

Crisfield, Md., Oct. 18.—When the George M. Collier was wrecked in Chesapeake bay last Friday and turned turtle, James O'Donnell, one of the crew, was caught in the wreck. He was rescued 18 hours later, weak from hunger and exposure, his life having been saved by the compressed air which formed in a chamber under the hull.

O'Donnell's escape is regarded as one of the most remarkable in the history of shipwreck. He was given up for lost by the crew, which clung to the sides of the boat for hours, only a few feet from their imploded companion.

About noon on Saturday when O'Donnell had been a prisoner fully 18 hours, the craft was tossed into the ship yard and turned over. O'Donnell now barely conscious, rolled out. He was bundled into blankets and a few hot drinks were given him and before night he was able to tell his experience.

BEATEN SENSELESS
BY EIGHT REFFIANS

Charles Newson Left for Dead Near His Own Home Last Night.

POLICE SEARCH FOR GANG

When Assaulted Was With Sons and Friends Who Were Powerless Against Lawless Mob.

Charles Newson, head of Newson & Co., general machinists of 638 west Third North street, who has lived there for 20 years, was attacked by a gang of eight ruffians, beaten into insensibility, struck over the left temple by brass knuckles, kicked and trampled upon and left for dead, on the street, within 100 feet of his own home, Sunday night shortly after 7 o'clock.

The police are searching for Thomas Wesley Mosler, who also travels under the name of Thomas West, driver of a city garbage and waste paper wagon, who is accused by the victim of being the leader of the gang.

Charles Newson says that he will swear out warrants for Mosler's arrest on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and attempt to murder.

According to the story told by the victim to chief of detectives George Sheets this morning, Charles Newson, his son and partner, Robert Newson, another son, Sidney Newson, E. J. Knox and George Smith, were going out together Sunday evening, and they had just left Newson's home at 638 west Third North street, when they were attacked by the gang. The gang used brass knuckles, heavy clubs, pieces of gas pipe and other deadly weapons. Robert Newson broke loose and escaped, and he says that he clearly saw the face of Thomas Mosler, who was beating his father, Charles Newson, over the head with his fists, on which were big brass knuckles. The young man saw Mosler deliver a terrible blow to his father's head, striking him in the left temple and feeling him swoon to the ground. Robert Newson thereupon ran back to his home and telephoned to the police. After a terrific battle in the darkness, E. J. Knox, George Smith and young Sidney Newson were left on the field while their adversaries fled away in the night before the police could arrive.

Warrants will be sworn out for every member of the gang, which has been terrorizing that neighborhood for a long time. It is said.

Dr. A. A. Kerr was hastily summoned from his office in the Mercantile building, when Charles Newson's father body was carried into his home. According to Detective H. C. Ribley, who was attracted to the scene by the uproar of the struggle, Dr. Kerr stated that the blows were delivered with great force and that the head and face were struck by some metal instrument. Police Sergeant Roberts went to the scene at 10 o'clock, and it is said that he has collected incriminating evidence against several members of the gang.

The family reported this morning that Dr. Kerr had told them last night that Charles Newson would recover. Newson's head and face were beaten in, and the wound in his left temple is particularly dangerous. His head was swathed in heavy bandages, and the thick covering of cloth was crisscrossed on the outside by the blood from his numerous wounds.

The police say they will not rest until they have apprehended every member of the gang that assaulted Newson.

Thomas Mosler, it is said, was arrested about six months ago on a charge of attempting to murder his little stepson, Everett Jones.

REDUCED FREIGHT RATES SOON EFFECTIVE

Washington, Oct. 18.—Reduction of the freight rates from eastern points to Des Moines, Iowa, ordered by the Interstate commerce commission will go into effect next Wednesday, the 20th inst., despite the protests of the railroads.

On the 14th inst. the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific filed a suit in Chicago, seeking to enjoin the commission from putting into effect its order in what is known as the "greater Des Moines case."

By that order, the commission reduced the proposed rate from Rock Island, Ill., to Des Moines, on all traffic originating east of the Indiana-Illinois state line, from 42 cents per 100 pounds to 27 cents per 100 pounds. The first class freight rates being proportionately less on other classes of freight.

Last week the Rock Island served notice on the commission that it would apply this week for a temporary injunction against the commission's order.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS.

FRAZIER FAVORS PETITION.

City Food Inspector Walter J. Frazier, to whom was referred the petition of a number of farmers in the county asking that the meat inspection ordinance be changed so as to permit farmers to do their own killing, has expressed his willingness to have the ordinance so amended provided the animals slaughtered at home by the farmers be brought to some central depot for inspection by an officer provided for that purpose and the payment of a small fee for defraying the expenses of inspection. COMMITTEE TURNS
DOWN PAT. MORAN

Unanimously Votes to Deny Contractor's Claim for Repairing Wooden Stave Pipe.

DISCREPANCIES IN HIS BILL

Report Will be Passed Up to the City Council for Action at Tonight's Session.

The committee of the city council investigating the claim of P. J. Moran for $20,458.67 for repairing the wooden stave pipe line this morning decided, by unanimous vote, to deny the claim and will so report to the city council session tonight.

The committee has held daily sessions the greater portion of the past week, scrutinizing the accounts of Moran's bill. Discrepancies amounting to more than $2,000 were discovered and on Saturday the investigation was brought to a standstill on account of the failure of Moran's timekeeper, Homer Reed, to appear and give testimony in regard to the time of the men employed on the job.

After a brief session this morning the committee, the matter will then be thrown into court if Moran wishes to press the collection of his bill, and in that case all the details of the transaction will be made public.

BESS STILL HOLDS THE FORT.

County Commissioners Conclude to Grant License for Road House.

The board of county commissioners this morning denied the petition of the residents of the neighborhood of Twelfth South and West Temple street asking the license of George Bess, who conducts a saloon at the point named, be revoked.

The ground for denying the petition was that there were more signatures to the petition circulated by Bess asking that the saloon be permitted to continue in business than there were against it. Those favoring the petition to deny the license numbered only about 125, while those signing the petition in favor of the saloonkeeper numbered 200.

The commissioners announced that a license would be granted to Bess for another three months, but that if in that time the saloonkeeper failed to produce that the place is a disorderly one, or that 60 per cent of the households of the election district in which the saloon is located were in favor of the continuance of the saloon at that place, a petition to deny the further granting of the license would be favorably considered by the board.

MONOPLANE FALLS
INJURING MANY PERSONS

Javary, France, Oct. 18.—A few minutes before Count De Lambert returned to the aviation field here from his flight to Paris, M. NO CONFESSION
TO THE POLICE

"Honest" George Sheets Admits The Fact This Morning—Following.

MATTER SMELLS OF POLITICS

Disinterested Persons Who Have Watched Case Compelled to View Whole Affair as a Farce.

"Kennedy has not confessed," said Chief of Police Barlow this morning, "but we are now absolutely certain that in R. E. Kennedy and L. E. Driskell we have the two men who held up young Knowlton Nebeker and shortly afterwards killed Special Officer C. C. Riley on the night of Tuesday, Oct. 5. We now believe that it was Driskell who fired the fatal shot. Both men will be charged with the murder of Riley."

Aside from this declaration, the police gave out no new information today. Kennedy and Driskell appear to be "standing pat," and in spite of the terrible third degree methods through which they are put by the detectives, they have so far not weakened. The police claim that they have enough evidence against the men now to convict them, but aside from the uncertain and weak identification of one of the men by young Nebeker, there is nothing right now on which to even hold the men under the statutes. It appears to disinterested persons who have followed the methods of the police in this case as though Kennedy and Driskell were being held merely as a bluff on the part of the police for political purposes. As the days went by after the Riley murder, matters grew worse, and public sentiment was fiercely aroused against the two men. The police, however, the guilty hold-up being caught, Kennedy and Driskell were nabbed in Ogden and rushed to Salt Lake City to fill the gap until after the city council is over.

Kennedy and Driskell have not been allowed to communicate with the outside world. They have not been allowed to see legal counsel. They have been swathed with all the peculiar arts which have made George Sheets' name a horror to victims of the frightful third degree. But in spite of all this, the police today have not a scintilla of evidence beyond young Nebeker's flimsy alleged identification of Kennedy, Driskell and that Kennedy shot Riley. Now things have been switched to suit the newest theory of the police and Driskell is now the man who fired the fatal shot. But how far this new theory will go with this farce is not known, but they reached the limit when they refused Kennedy and Driskell the right of making a statement to the people in their own behalf.

TO AID WESTERN DEVELOPMENT

Official Call for Grand Junction Convention Reaches Governor.

Governor Spry is in receipt of a communication from the officers of the Western Slope Development congress, which will convene at Grand Junction, Colorado, Nov. 10 and 11, urging him to attend and to appoint delegates to the congress. The official call for the congress is directed to governors, county commissioners and mayors as well as to live stock associations and allied associations of Colorado, Arizona, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico. Among the subjects to be discussed at the congress are the suggestion of President Taft that $5,000,000 in bonds should be issued to carry out delayed reclamation projects; the matter of unfair freight rates; the necessity of a railroad from a point on the Union Pacific in Wyoming to a point on the Southern Pacific in Arizona or New Mexico, and education as affecting rural districts. Senator Edmunds and Governor Spry have also been asked to deliver addresses. The session of the congress of the Western Slope Stockgrowers' association will be held at the same time.

FIRST LECTURE
BY MATT HENSON

Peary Ordered Him Not to Use Photographs He (Henson) Had Made on Polar Trip.

HE WAS ANTI COOK OF COURSE

Said Doctor Could Not Have Reached North Pole—Danish Arctic Explorer Certain He Did.

New York, Oct. 18.—The first lecture given by Matthew A. Henson, who accompanied Commander Robert E. Peary on his recent polar expedition, was marred by the fact that the commander at the last moment had ordered him not to use photographs which had been taken on the trip. Henson took 129 pictures himself, and on his arrival here gave them to the director of the American museum of natural history, who transformed them into lantern slides. At the last moment Mr. Peary instructed the museum director not to turn the slides over to Henson until he, Peary, had examined them. The director followed Peary's order.

There were many Cook sympathizers in the audience and the negro lecturer was questioned closely on many points. Henson declared frequently throughout his lecture that Dr. Cook could not have reached the north pole, and it is weak identification of one of the men by young Nebeker, there is nothing right now on which to even hold the men under the statutes. It appears to disinterested persons who have followed the methods of the police in this case as though Kennedy and Driskell were being held merely as a bluff on the part of the police for political purposes. FEELS SURE COOK
REACHED NORTH POLE

Chicago, Oct. 18.—A special cable from Copenhagen to The Record-Herald says:

The Danish government's Arctic yacht Godthaab returned here yesterday from Greenland. Capt. Schoubye, the skipper, had on the first white man to meet Dr. Cook returning from his polar expedition.

At first Capt. Schoubye says he was skeptical about Dr. Cook's story and the doctor showed him his journals and observations. The captain knows a great deal about astronomy and everything appeared to him to be correct.

Capt. Schoubye declares he has no doubt whatever that Dr. Cook reached the pole. He made the journey, he says, and obtained at first from the report from Dr. Cook's two Eskimos. They both told the same story about the doctor's polar journey. One day after making some observations, Dr. Cook told them with some joyousness, "We shall be there tomorrow."

WOMAN'S THROAT CUT
WHILE SHE WAS ASLEEP

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 18.—While Mrs. George Stachle, wife of a brewery employee, was asleep in her home last night, she was attacked by a man who cut her throat with a razor. There is no clear to the criminal's identity further than the blood-covered razor which he left behind. The woman's husband was at work in the brewery at the time of the attack.

Mrs. Stachle almost died to death and her life was saved by Patrol Officer Gill. She was saved by the wound in her throat with his fingers until the hospital was reached. She is expected to recover.

Elsie Stachle, a 12-year-old daughter, said that after she and her mother had been attacked by the man, she was crying for help. The man turned on a light, saw the blood pouring over her mother's night robe and ran for help. Mrs. Stachle's wounds had been so severe and several large arteries cut. Two strokes had been made with the razor in criss-cross fashion, one extending across the throat and the other lengthwise.

SAN FRANCISCO JAPANESE-AMERICAN BANK CLOSED

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—The Japanese-American bank, one of the largest Japanese banks in the west, with branches in Los Angeles and Ogden, Utah, was closed today by State Banking Superintendent Anderson. The bank's assets amount to only about 15 per cent of its liabilities.

Most of the depositors are Japanese and Los Angeles they made such a run on the bank that it was almost depleted of its cash before its doors were closed.

Los Angeles, Oct. 18.—The Japanese-American bank, a branch of a San Francisco concern, and having deposits of about $300,000, was closed today by State Banking Superintendent Anderson. Practically all of the depositors are Japanese. Their deposits amount from $1 upward.

The cause for the closing has not been given out, but the trouble is believed to have been the natural consequence of the recent failure of Japanese banks in Oakland and Sacramento. Following these failures, there were large withdrawals by depositors from the local institutions.

On receipt of news of a run on the Los Angeles branch, Superintendent Anderson ordered the immediate closing of both the San Francisco bank and its Los Angeles branch. The bank had a branch in Ogden also and a telegram was sent to the governor of Utah by the California bank commissioners suggesting that this be closed.
